FRANK HATTON.

Newly-Appointed Postmaster-General.

Frank Hatton, from October 22, 1881, to October 14, 1884, First Assistant Postmaster-General, was, on the second of these dates, given the commission which promoted him to be the head of the department. He was thus made a Cabinet minister, and his salary raised from four thousand dollars a year to double that amount.
When Mr. Hatton took the oath of office his only son, a bright little fellow, stood by his side, and he was the first person to shake hands with the newly-made minister. The oath of office was administered by Judge Lawrence, who has sworn in twenty-two Postmaster-Generals, and has been connected with the department more than half a century.

The man now at the head of the mail service performed by the Federal Government of the United States, though young in years, is thoroughly experienced in the matters which he superintends. Before taking his first appointment in Washington he was Postmaster at Burlington, Iowa, the place of his residence. His promotion to his present prominence is satisfactory to that large number of citizens who insist that appointments to positions requiring special knowledge and aptitudes should always be given to those persons who have demonstrated the appropriate ability.
That Mr. Hatton will make an efficient Postmaster-General there can be no doubt.

He is a native of the State of Ohio, and was born at Cadiz, in the year 1845. His father was a journalist and printer and he was placed in the office, where he learned to set type and all that could be learned in the place of publication of a country newspaper. The war stirred his patriotism. He enlisted in the Union cause and made a good soldier. With the resumption of civil life he joined his father at Cadiz, and worked as local editor on the newspaper owned by him. When this property passed into other hands, and the family removed to Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Frank continued to assist his father in the production of the newspaper which he owned in that place, and inherited the property and the responsibilities of editorial management upon the death of that gentleman. He made money, and in 1874 was able to purchase a half interest in the Burlington Hawkeye. This soon led to his possession of the whole, and gave him the opportunity which, industriously utilized, made him eminent as a journalist throughout the country. His editorial articles were written from the Republican standpoint with singular force and ability, and hence were widely copied. Combined with this superior literary endowment Mr. Hatton evidenced business talent of a high order. His appointment as Postmaster at Burlington was the first practical recognition of the value of his services to the Republican party, and was followed by his being given an official position in Washington, from which he rose to the distinction he now enjoys.

He is a lively, witty man, and his presence at Cabinet meetings will serve to enliven them. Postmaster-General Hatton's career is an encouragement to young men who are willing to gain the qualifications deserving public reward and honor.

The judge then asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why the sentence of death should not be pronounced against him. "Well, not much," said the prisoner, with imperturbable sang froid. "All I have to say to the d-d court and everybody connected with it is that if it affords them any pleasure to have me hanged till I'm dead, dead, dead, then this court and all connected with it may just go to hell, hell, hell. "Ah!" instantly exclaimed the Court, in the Court's case the order is mandatory, but in that of the prisoner it is only advisory. Mr. Sheriff, let the sentence be executed.

A younger Philadelphia widow, described as "dashing," it is said, will give a ball during the coming winter at which no ladies but widows thirty years of age or under will be present.
Glass widows will be sternly barred out. As the local widows of the right kind will not be numerous enough, invitations will be sent to widows in New York, Boston, Baltimore and other cities. The bids and roses of the Quaker City are up in arms and threaten to ostracize all the young men who may attend the widow's ball.

FIGURING ON THE FIGHT.

Two Philadelphia Estimates On the Way States Will Go.

(Philadelphia Times.)
It may now be regarded as reasonably certain that the following named States will vote as classified:
FOR CLEVELAND. FOR BLAINE.
Alabama..... 12 Colorado..... 3 Arkansas..... 11 Illinois..... 22 Delaware..... 3 Iowa..... 13 Florida..... 9 Kansas..... 9 Georgia..... 12 Maine..... 6 Kentucky..... 13 Massachusetts..... 14 Louisiana..... 8 Nebraska..... 5 Maryland..... 10 Ohio..... 25 Mississippi..... 9 Oregon..... 3 Missouri..... 16 Pennsylvania..... 30
New Jersey..... 9 Rhode Island..... 4 North Carolina..... 11 Vermont..... 4 South Carolina..... 9 Tennessee..... 12 Texas..... 13
Virginia..... 12
West Virginia..... 4
Total..... 177 Total..... 149

A few of the States named will be classed as debatable, but we regard Indiana as no more doubtful for the Democrats than Illinois is for the Republicans, and New Jersey is no more debatable than Massachusetts.
It is within the range of possibility that Indiana and New York might be carried by the Republicans, and that Illinois and Massachusetts might be carried by the Democrats, but neither is now at all probable. The following are the really debatable States, in which both parties will make exhaustive battle:

California..... 8 New York..... 36 Connecticut..... 6 Wisconsin..... 11 Michigan..... 12 Nevada..... 3
New Hampshire..... 3
New Jersey..... 9
Ohio..... 25
Oregon..... 3
Pennsylvania..... 30
Rhode Island..... 4
Tennessee..... 12
Texas..... 13
Virginia..... 12

A Republican Estimate.

(Philadelphia Press.)
The splendid Republican victory in Ohio gives a clear forecast of the Presidential election. The Electoral College consists of 401 votes, and it requires 201 to elect. The following States may be safely set down for Blaine and Logan:

California..... 8 Nevada..... 3 Colorado..... 3 New Hampshire..... 3 Connecticut..... 6 New York..... 36 Illinois..... 22 Ohio..... 25 Indiana..... 13 Oregon..... 3 Iowa..... 12 Pennsylvania..... 30 Kansas..... 9 Rhode Island..... 4 Maine..... 6 Vermont..... 4 Massachusetts..... 14 Wisconsin..... 11 Michigan..... 12
Minnesota..... 7
Missouri..... 16
Nebraska..... 5
Total..... 220

This gives Blaine 38 votes more than enough to elect. We have not included New Jersey in the table, though we believe that her vote will be cast for Blaine. We prefer in the calculation to err on the safe side.
The nine votes of New Jersey added to the Blaine column would raise it to 248.

No State is included in the table about which there is any reasonable doubt. New York is practically as certain for Blaine as Pennsylvania.
There was uncertainty at first; but the Democratic disruption in New York City, and the overwhelming sentiment for Blaine in the interior, make the State secure. Yet New York might be lost and Blaine still elected. Counting out both New York and New Jersey, he would have 203 votes, or two more than the required number. If he carries New York he can spare Indiana, but Indiana will go with Ohio.

In this calculation we have not included a single Southern State. Yet it is not impossible that Blaine may carry three or four. The Democrats held West Virginia on Tuesday by only a narrow margin. It would not be surprising if, with Blaine's personal strength and the direct national issue of the tariff, the State should be brought into the Republican column in November. There is a good fighting chance in Virginia and North Carolina, and the Protectionists of Tennessee and Louisiana are making a gallant battle. The Republicans thus have a chance in a part of all following States:

West Virginia..... 6 Louisiana..... 8
Virginia..... 12
North Carolina..... 11 Total..... 29
Tennessee..... 11

As Blaine and Logan are now certain to be elected anyway, there will be more disposition in these Southern States to be on the winning side. It would be a wise stroke on their part to share in the victory. Such a movement would lie in the pathway of a broad national policy, and would open the South to new political material prospects.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this refined, German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Boston, N. Y.

To The Democratic Leaders.

The preliminary tests of strength in this campaign show beyond question that Mr. Blaine cannot be elected by Republican votes. The desperate fight made by him and under him in Ohio resulted in an absolute failure to command a majority of the votes, or to get one-half the plurality which was easily got in the October election of 1880. The demonstrations of the business men in New York, the powerful and energetic revolt in this State of the Independent Republicans, the threatening organizations of the same kind in Connecticut and Massachusetts, the prominence, weight, and influence of the recent accessions to the Cleveland Republicans, establish beyond a doubt the fact that Mr. Blaine cannot command by many thousands the normal vote of his party. It is, moreover, clear that a very large number from his own party not only reject him, but are giving their hearty support to his opponent.

Mr. Blaine and his managers understand this. Their minds are now fixed, as a last resort, upon depriving Gov. Cleveland of the support in his own party to which he is entitled.
To this end they are bending all the resources at their command. The committees of the Democratic Party should know what this means. They have seen the vast and thoroughly organized machinery of the Republican Party steadily perfected throughout a quarter of a century of unbroken possession of power. Whatever trained skill can do with enormous patronage, with the money of the lobby, of the star-route millionaires, of the monopolists and the corporations, of Gould and Field and Elkins, will be done. Mr. Blaine has put Gen. Burler in the field as hired tool and agent, doing his work and subject to his orders in the same relation that the unprincipled old hunchback maintained as counsel of the corporations. Butler's sole end now is to divide the Democratic Party, and he is laboring for his reward with all the audacity and all the shrewdness which a life spent in public rascality has given him.

He has been shown up to his delin-dellous followers in Maryland, and they have publicly repudiated him. He stands out now in his true colors. His purposes, his motives, his methods are known, and he can now have the support only of dupes or of accomplices.
It remains for the Democratic managers to dispose of him. Victory lies within their grasp. The Independent Republicans, obeying with courage and fidelity the voice of duty, have done their part. They have exposed the unfitness of Mr. Blaine and made it impossible for him to win the votes he needs from Republicans. They have vindicated the good name of their own party and purged it of the disgrace of Mr. Blaine's candidacy.
They have convinced the reason and aroused the conscience of the better class of the old and honorable party, and now they turn the dishonest candidate, stripped of his disguises and exposed in all the nakedness of his greed and corruption, over to the Democracy. Gentlemen of the Democratic committees will you see that your votes are brought out for the candidate who has won and who deserves the unprecedented support of the honest men among his political opponents? Will you secure for him a support among followers as earnest, as loyal, as effective, and complete? If you will he will be the next President of the United States.
You have a desperate and powerful foe to contend with, but that foe is already crippled and half disarmed.
He depends now solely on the agencies and agents in your party of the same sort that forced him upon ours and have compelled decent men to repudiate him. That dependence will be vain if you will use every legitimate means to defeat his plot, now laid bare, and to bring out the strength of your own party. It is in your hands to prove that the Democratic Party, so long and so deeply distrusted by the country, is capable of being an effective instrument of honest government. You have a candidate whose election will bring about that end. You have honest Republican allies enough to secure that election if you do your duty. If you fail, the doom of the Democratic Party is sealed, and its down-fall will be not only disastrous but disgraceful.—N. Y. Times, Rep.

Mr. Schurz is quiet correct in thinking that the Ohio election will "not have any appreciable effect" upon the result next month. The result was a stunning blow for the Blaine faction. They brought out every vote available in the State, for or against their ticket, with this effect: Their own vote was only 14,578 greater than Garfield got in 1880, while the Democratic vote was 37,750 greater than Hancock had in 1880.
The total vote was 780,783, and of this the Blaine ticket got only 389,826, or less than one-half. The Prohibition vote, which was only 2,622 in 1880, was the year 9,510, and it will be much larger in November. Whatever effect this showing has on the November election will be against Mr.
Blaine.—New York Times, Rep.

A SOLID FRONT.
Let nobody outside of New York suppose for an instant that there is any disunion here in the Democratic camp touching the Presidency. The party here presents a solid front for Cleveland. The Tammany demonstration last night determines the point.—New York World.

TAMMANY'S RESOLUTION.
Whereas, the National Democratic Convention held in Chicago on July 10, 1884, nominated as the candidate of the party for President, Grover Cleveland, of New York, and for Vice-President, Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana.
Resolved, That we, the regular Democratic-Republican organization of the city of New York, in Tammany Hall assembled, do cordially endorse and approve the nominations so made and the platform of principles there-adopted, and that we pledge to the nominations our undivided support as loyal Democrats till the close of the polls on election day.

tism, scrofula, scald head or tetter,

ease arising from impurity of the

A seventeen year old girl in Chicago, by some unaccountable freak of nature, has changed her sex, been shorn of her woman's hair, is cultivating a mustache, donned the attire of a young gentleman and is now in a school for young gentlemen in the city of Boston. After the intimate school girl relations with his former class-mates will he seek a sweetheart from among them.

Damages in Both Ways.
Sickness is the most expensive thing in the world. In two ways: it puts one to direct cost, and prevents one from earning money by his labor.
We say nothing of suffering, for money cannot pay for that. How much better to keep oneself well by the use of Parker's Tonic whenever there is the slightest sign of ill health. 87-21

The Hand-writing on the Wall.

Truth will out. Even Associated Press lies vanish before official figures. According to the latest reports the elections of last week show the following extraordinary results:

1. The Republican plurality in Ohio is reduced to about half of what it was four years ago.
2. The Republican majority on the State ticket is less than nothing. The Republicans are actually in a minority, while four years ago they had a positive majority of over 9,000 over Democrats, Greenbackers and Prohibitionists combined.
3. The Republicans are not only in a minority in the popular vote of Ohio, but they elect a minority of the Congressional delegation. Four years ago they elected 15 Republicans to Congress. This year they only elect 10. Four years ago the Democrats elected only 5 Representatives; this year they elect 11—a majority of the delegation.

4. The increase in the vote of Ohio over that of four years ago is 66,000.
The Democrats cast 39,000 votes more than they cast for Hancock, while the Republicans, in spite of Blaine, Dudley and Corruption, cast only 16,000 more than they cast for Garfield. In other words, nearly two-thirds of the new vote since 1880 went Democratic, while a large part of the Republican one-third was unquestionably obtained by fraud and wholesale bribery in the large cities.
5. In West Virginia the Democrats have an absolute majority, over the Republicans and Greenbackers combined, nearly three times as large as Hancock's majority of 1880. They swept every Congressional district in the State, gaining one now held by a Republican.

If this be a "victory," the Republicans are welcome to it.
These figures show clearly that Blaine is much weaker than Garfield; that the popular tide is against him in spite of all he does; that he is doomed to defeat, and that if the Democrats could gain 40,000 votes in Garfield's Republican State over those cast for Hancock, they should and will gain at least 100,000 in Democratic New York, where nearly the whole respectable press, as well as the Stalwarts, Germans and Prohibitionists, are in open rebellion against corrupt Star-rotism and Republicanism.—New York World.

POLITICAL POINTS.

NO HOPE FROM THE SOUTH.

The Democrats of Indiana have quite generally taken up and pushed the tariff issue. In fact, under the wise guidance of Thomas A. Hendricks, they have assumed the aggressive on this question from the start, and the majority of the people of Indiana are with them. This seems to have had its effect on Mr.
Blaine. In his speech yesterday, at Fort Wayne, the longest he has made since he started on his tour, he hardly alluded to the tariff. Mr. Blaine, since West Virginia has voted, largely increasing her Democratic majority, has no hope of any aid from the South, and yesterday he waved the bloody shirt with great vigor. This is not an encouraging sign.—Cincinnati Post. (Ind-)

of the party for President, Grover Cleveland, of New York, and for
Vice-President, Thomas A. Hend-
ricks, of Indiana.

Resolved, That we, the regular
loyal Democrats till the close of the
polls on election day.

Dr. Samuel Hodge's Sarsaparilla and potash is a sure cure for rheumatism, scrofula, scald head or tetter, chronic sores of all kind or any disease arising from impurity of the blood. You can get a trial bottle at J. R. Armistead's, G. E. Galtner's or Gish & Garners.

A seventeen year old girl in Chicago,
by some unaccountable freak of
shorn of her woman's hair, is culti-
school girl relations with his former
from among them.

Damages in Both Ways.
one from earning money by his labor.
We say nothing of suffering, for money
better to keep oneself well by the use
